SENATOR PAGE'S RECORD NOT "PROGRESSIVE"

In the days when the Progressive party was active in Vermont, Charles H. Thompson of Montpelier was one of its liveliest and most dynamic wires. Judging by his communications to the press, Mr. Thompson is not satisfied with Senator Page's record on "progressive" legislation.

After admitting that the return of the Republican party to power would probably mean the elevation of Mr. Page to some better committees, Mr. Thompson says:

"Would it not be well for Senator Page to state to his constituency why he voted against the Hollis rural credit bill? . . . I have seen Senator Page's statement in this matter, in which he successfully dodges the interrogation by calling attention of the interrogator to the fact that the rural credit bonds of this banking scheme would be non-taxable in the state of Vermont. . . . He also refers to the speech of Senator Cummins, in which . . . (he) falls back on the old, hackneyed phrase that the bill was 'unconstitutional.' We in Vermont are not particularly interested in Senator Cummins' idea . . . We wish to know why Senator Page voted against it."

In the same connection, the Bennington Banner says:

"The rural credits bill is designed to make it easier for producing farmers to borrow money. . . . Farmers have always had a harder time in borrowing money than other business men, for the reason that the value of their property varies so much according to location. . . . The Banner was greatly surprised to note by the Washington dispatches that Senator Page voted against the rural credits bill."

In Vermont and Washington

On the Same Day!

Mr. Thompson also seems puzzled by Senator Page's letter of July 12th, in which he informed certain of his constituents that he was staying close to his post of duty at Washington, yet written on a date on which the newspaper dispatches reported him as attending the meeting of the Greater Vermont Association in Montpelier.

Senator Page has not denied attending such a meeting. If he was in fact in Vermont, why did he inform his constituents that he was "sticking close to the job" in Washington?

Mr. Thompson says further:

"If I am informed correctly, during the week of July 12, the naval appropriation bill, carrying the most important changes in our navy which have been made for many years, was up for final discussion. . . . It is apparent that he did not consider that he was needed on the naval committee at Washington during that week, and if he was not needed on the naval committee during that time, he never will be, and his appeal to his constituency on the basis of his committee appointments apparently is without any value."

Progressives Don't Want Page!

As apparently the Republicans of Vermont will be called upon to welcome home 20-odd thousand Progressives this fall, how strongly will a candidate of Senator Page's record appeal to them?

Apparently it does not appeal to Mr. Thompson. He says:

"If Senator Page is running for re-election on his record, the Progressives in the state of Vermont and the men who consider themselves progressive Republicans might do well to take sufficient time to examine Senator Page's record carefully before giving him their support."

Will Mr. Page Answer?

Thousands of people in Vermont desire to know what Senator Page has stood for and what he has created in the way of constructive legislation during his eight years' service in Washington.

Senator Page, what constructive measure have you proposed, stood behind and pushed to a successful issue?

How to Heal Skin-Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These are not at all expensive. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Almost any soap will clean the skin and hair. But those who want a soap which not only cleanses but actually helps the complexion and hair are wise to choose resinol soap.
